

Forza 4K 84" Mobile Touch Screen

Date : January 14, 2015

Morgan Hill, CA – January 14, 2015 – Volanti Displays, a Silicon Valley company, will be unveiling the FORZA 4K 84" Mobile Touch Screen at the 2015 NAMM show, booth #7427, Anaheim Convention Center, Anaheim, CA.

Performing artists and DJs will love the ability to incorporate graphics into their performance with touch screen capability. "The opportunity to bring your audience into the music is amazing," said Billy Barnes, Art Director of Volanti Displays. "With the phenomenal resolution of this 4K video display you're guaranteed to bring high impact to any stage show," Barnes added.

The Forza 4K 84" touch screen is the latest addition to the FORZA family of mobile products. As a single large LCD display the FORZA can be set up by one person in a just few minutes. After rolling into place, simply pull the handle and the screen rises out of the rugged mobile cart. Simple setup, serious impact!

Visitors to the show are encouraged to stop by Volanti's booth #7427 and try out the FORZA touch screen using Ableton Live and Super Looper. Anyone is welcome to drop beats, mix tracks and be your own producer.

On Saturday, January 24th hip hop producer Amp Live will be presenting DJ sets on the FORZA touch screen and Volanti's new Cube Gen2, a 3 dimensional video cube. DJ Dot will also be available. Stop by on January 25th to meet these DJs and experience the FORZA and CUBE first hand.
